I have a friend who suffers terribly from Asthma. Methane pollution along with other pollutants in the air as well as the increased effects of ozone due to global warming are forcing her to have to move from New Mexico. Global warming to me is the biggest threat to the health and well being of all living creatures on the planet. Any measures taken to help reduce this threat can and must be done. We just watched essentially nearly the entire west coast burn down last summer, and we in New Mexico got to suffer from the smoke carried from those fires to our region. Our region as well as just about every state in the western region of the U.S. is suffering from severe drought conditions. Do we really need any more reasons to do everything we can to slow, stop, reverse this problem?

Are you interested in making a public statement at the hearing?
