Oil Conservation Commissioners

Dear Commissioners,

I urge you to maintain the current New Mexico Pit Rule, which protects our water supply from drilling waste.

For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of our water supply. I urge you to maintain this effective rule.

Sincerely,

Dear Commissioners,

I urge you to maintain the current New Mexico Pit Rule, which protects our water supply from drilling waste.

For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of our water supply. I urge you to maintain this effective rule.

We do not need more drilling at the expense of even one drop of our drinking water, which is dangerously scarce as it is, and polluted enough from the mismanagement of mining and energy industries in NM.

Keep the Pit Rule enforced. We are watching our politicians to see if they are concerned enough for public safety and resources to strictly guard our use of this finite and precious water supply. We can live using less fossil fuels, but we die without clean water.

Sincerely,

For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of our water supply. I urge you to maintain this effective rule. It is critical that the war on our environment, water (fresh/oceans) and eco systems stop so that we as humans can live in harmony with nature and be blessed with its bountiful rewards. Companies that extract natural resources have a special duty to be extra vigilant in how it treats the environment. If they don't they should be shut down or severely penalized and the punishment needs to be more than a slap on the wrist. It needs to have prison terms for the CEO's and boards of directors. Anything short of that is laughable and an insult to humankind.

For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of the water supply.

It is distressing that some members of the Martinez administration are trying to undo New Mexico's Pit Rule, which has kept drilling waste away from NM drinking water for the last four years.

Please help protect New Mexico's drinking water from drilling waste.

Before the Pit Rule was enacted, New Mexico had at least 400 cases of groundwater contamination from oil and gas development. Since the Pit Rule, there have been zero.

Please maintain this effective rule.

Dear Commissioners,

For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of our water supply.

We live in a desert. It's an easy thing to forget from inside the air-conditioned buildings where we spend so much of our time, but we would do well to remember that our perceptions do not dictate reality.

Our water supply is limited; we should be reluctant to use it frivolously and more reluctant still to sell it for profit. Please maintain the Pit Rule.

Oil Conservation Commissioners

Dear Commissioners,

I urge you to maintain the current New Mexico Pit Rule, which protects our water supply from drilling waste.

Protecting our water is mandatory and has to be the first consideration.

No water, no life. We are in a drought and polluting our drinking water for oil is unconscionable.

we may not be able to spend water to keep crops growing, fight fires, and allow livestock adequate drinking water. Giving it away to pollution will be remembered in your legacy.

For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of our water supply. I urge you to maintain this effective rule.

The protections of the pit rule are not expensive, especially to an industry making massive profits and not paying a fair price for the water and pollution.

What we have is a choice between the general public and the extractive industry. While the oil and gas industries have their value the over-riding issue is the safety of our water. Please put the welfare of ALL CITIZENS over that of industry. Oil and gas producers receive billions in subsidies and make similar profits. Dear Commissioners,

I urge you to maintain the current New Mexico Pit Rule, which protects our water supply from drilling waste.

For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of our water supply. I request the commission keep the current rule without change.

I believe that the state should take advantage of every opportunity to increase the number of jobs coming to the state and the value of our state.

However contamination of our drinking water with oil and gas is a long term recurring cost. It will decrease the value of the state and the quality of life for our citizens.

Respectfully,

Todd Westrick

Oil Conservation Commissioners

Dear Commissioners,

I urge you to maintain the current New Mexico Pit Rule, which protects our water supply from drilling waste.

Please don't cave into the ultra-reactionary, fascist, racist, corrupt, traitorous, terrorist Tea Party thugs and their partners in crimes against humanity and the environment, Fox "News" (the propaganda arm of the RepubliKKKans). For the last four years, New Mexico's Pit Rule has kept drilling waste out of our water supply. I urge you to maintain this effective rule.

Sincerely,
