Mr Swazo,

I am in receipt of your e mails , I am out of the country until Mon. 21st. I will be forwarding you a more formal response to this situation, however be advised that I have not been the owner of C&D Management since mid to late 2005. Mr Tom Kizer is the owner and responsible party.

I agree that I entered into a compliance order previously and have fulfilled those obligations with the exception of plugging 4 of the wells. I also explained and asked for more time in writing that I was having a lot of difficulty in obtaining rig / crews to plug the wells. The quotes I have received just for cement operations alone have exceeded the amount of bond even!

However the current situation at hand is the continued non reporting and or non producing of certain wells that falls into the responsibility of the current owner Mr Tom Kizer.

We have submitted his contact information many many times to OCD and others and I am still the one contacted.

Mr Kizer is the sole owner of the Company and even the bonds securing the wells. So this matter should be directed to him. I am willing to finish fulfilling the terms of the previous compliance order....however I brought the c 115 filings current which allowed Mr Kizer to resume production....all subsequent filings are HIS responsibility. I receive NO revenue from the property and have NO interest in C&D Management Co.

Respectfully
 Chris Jeffries
