Oil Conservation Case No. 11755 (de novo)

Order No. R-10872

MOTION OF MEWBOURNE OIL COMPANY
FOR A STAY OF DIVISION ORDER NO. R-10872
AND TO SHUT-IN AN EXISTING WELL

Mewbourne Oil Company ("Mewbourne") moves the Oil Conservation Division ("Division") and the Oil Conservation Commission ("Commission") for an order staying Division Order No. R-10872 pending a de novo review by the Commission, and requesting that an existing well be shut-in, and in support thereof, states:

A. MOTION FOR A STAY.

1. Denying A Stay Negates Mewbourne's Right To An Appeal.

The above cases were heard by the Division on April 3, 1997. On September 12, 1997 the Division entered Order No. R-10872, granting the application of Fasken Oil and Ranch, Ltd. ("Fasken Oil") and denying the application of Mewbourne. An Application for Hearing De Novo was filed with the Division by Mewbourne on September 17, 1997. Mewbourne has an absolute right to a de novo hearing before the Commission pursuant to statute. N.M. Stat. Ann. §70-2-13 (1995 Repl. Pamp.).

If a stay is not granted, Fasken may drill its proposed well. As a result, by the time this matter is decided by the Commission the issue may be moot, and Mewbourne's right to a de novo hearing will effectively be negated. As a result, a stay of Order No. R-10872 is proper.

2. Order No. R-10872 Is Contrary To Division Policy And Law.

Order No. R-10872 approved Fasken's well location essentially because it was unopposed by offsetting interest owners. Order No. R-10872, Finding ¶(16). Division Memorandum 3-89 states that unorthodox locations will not be granted merely because they are unopposed. Thus, Order No. R-10872 is contrary to Division policy, and needs to be reviewed by the Commission before a well is commenced.

Moreover, no geologic justification was given in Order No. R-10872 for denying one application and granting the other, and the order does not disclose the reasoning of the Division, as required by law. Fasken v. Oil Conservation Comm'n, 87 N.M. 292, 532 P.2d 588 (1975); Viking Petroleum, Inc. v. Oil Conservation Comm'n, 100 N.M. 451, 672 P.2d 280 (1983) (findings must be sufficiently extensive to show the basis of the order and disclose the reasoning of the Division). Therefore, Order No. R-10872 is legally defective, and must be reviewed by the Commission.

3. Order No. R-10872 Ignored The Operating Agreement.

The property at issue in this case, the S½ of Section 1-21S-25E, is subject to an Operating Agreement (Mewbourne Exhibit 3), under which Mewbourne and Fasken Land and Minerals, Ltd. ("Fasken Land") are interest owners.¹ There was substantial evidence presented at hearing that the operator under the agreement must be an interest owner, and thus Fasken Oil is not a proper applicant. Nonetheless, Order No. R-10872 appointed Fasken Oil as operator. Order No. R-10872, Decretory ¶(3). Therefore, the order is defective because Fasken Oil cannot be operator of a well in the S½ of Section 1.

In addition, Mewbourne's well location was proposed first. As a result, Fasken Land, as operator, had a duty under the Operating Agreement to proceed with obtaining regulatory approval of Mewbourne's location, instead of opposing it. Order No. R-10872 ignored these facts. Again, the order is defective and must be reviewed by the Commission before any well is drilled.

4. The Division Did Not Have Jurisdiction Over Case 11755.

Fasken Land, not Fasken Oil, is the proper applicant in Case 11755. Notice of Case 11755 was never published naming Fasken Land as applicant, as required by Division Rule 1205.B. Thus, notice was defective, the Division never had jurisdiction over Case 11755, and granting relief in Case 11755 was improper.

B. MOTION TO SHUT-IN WELL.

Texaco Exploration and Production Inc. ("Texaco")² operates two wells in Section 12-21S-25E, one located in Unit N (drilled in 1972) and one located in Unit F (commenced in October 1995 and completed in early 1996). Order No. R-10872, Finding ¶(9); Mewbourne Exhibit 10; Texaco Exhibit 6. Prorationing was suspended in the Catclaw Draw-Morrow Gas Pool in March 1995, by Commission Order No. R-10328. As a result, when the Texaco well in Unit F was drilled, it was subject to Division Rule 104.D(3), which limits the number of producing wells in a gas spacing and proration unit within non-prorated pools to one. Order No. R-10872, Finding ¶(5).

¹Fasken Oil is not an interest owner under the Operating Agreement.

²Texaco entered an appearance in this action in opposition to Mewbourne's application.

Thus, Texaco's E.J. Levers Fed. "NCT-1" Well No. 2, in Unit F of Section 12, was illegally drilled. Moreover, this well may be draining the S½ of Section 1, giving Texaco an unfair advantage over the interest owners therein.³ Therefore, Mewbourne requests that Texaco's well in Unit F of Section 12 be shut-in pending the hearing de novo and until Texaco applies to and obtains an order of the Division allowing it to produce the well.

WHEREFORE, Mewbourne requests that Order No. R-10872 be stayed pending a decision in the hearing de novo, and that Texaco's E.J. Levers Fed. "NCT-1" Well No. 2 be shut-in pending a proper application to and decision by the Division.

Respectfully submitted,
