OCD approval does not relieve the operator of liability should their operations fail to adequately investigate and remediate contamination that may pose a threat to groundwater, surface water, human health or the environment. In addition, OCD approval does not relieve the operator of responsibility for compliance with any other federal, state, or local laws and/or regulations.

Subject: C-141's

Good Afternoon,

Please see the attached C-141's that correspond with the hard copy we provided you with. Please let us know if you have any questions.

I tried to send them this morning I guess they didn't go through due to the quantity. I will have to send them in separate emails.

Thank you,
