OCD approval does not relieve the operator of liability should their operations fail to adequately investigate and remediate contamination that may pose a threat to groundwater, surface water, human health or the environment. In addition, OCD approval does not relieve the operator of responsibility for compliance with any other federal, state, or local laws and/or regulations.

This is a re-submittal for this plan. It was originally submitted on 6/28/19 and no response has been received as of today. It would be appreciated if you could review this as soon as possible. Chevron looks forward to the approval to proceed.

Thanks, Cliff
