Olivia

I believe that Legacy received a notification regarding the absence of a closure report for this site. The report may have been submitted, but not reviewed or reviewed, approved, but never entered into the system. There were quite a few documents left in the office that I occupied and I believe some of them were Legacy documents. I do not know what became of these documents after my departure. Is there any way you could check on them or if you have, let me know what you found? If there is no evidence of the document, then Etech will gladly generate a closure report for you. Thank you.
