Yes sorry,

We called it pronghorn initially so it took a minute to find it.

nRM2017440778,

I also have some email correspondence if you need that.

OCD approval does not relieve the operator of liability should their operations fail to adequately investigate and remediate contamination that may pose a threat to groundwater, surface water, human health or the environment. In addition, OCD approval does not relieve the operator of responsibility for compliance with any other federal, state, or local laws and/or regulations.
