Regarding: Old Drilling Pit Update

During our April 2011 meeting with the Jim Amos and Jenifer VanCuren of the BLM, the work plan for remediating the old drilling pits was presented and accepted. It was agreed that 8 pits would be worked on this year and additional pits would be done in 2012 to help Lime Rock spread the cost of these projects.

The plan was as follows:

- Level the area
- Roll 3-4 round bales of hay over the entire area.
- Bring in 12" of good clay soil
- Spread new soil evenly
- Flip the top 24" using a Track Hoe, creating a 24" growth zone.
- Level the area by disking.
- Apply Jump Start Nutrient Pack
- Add a 3-6" berm wall to hold initial watering over the area.
- Water Weekly for 1 month.

This plan was specifically designed to add good soil and nutrients to the very poor soil, providing a better environment for vegetation. There were no initial samples analysis taken and with plant growth apparent on each site there should be no need for follow-up samples.

This plan has been completed on all 8 pits and plant growth has started and is visible in all 8 pits.

Thanks,

Rob Johnston
