Gentlemen:

I am attaching a letter which I have received from the Oil Conservation Commission.

I was not aware that the work mentioned in Mr. Gressett's letter had not been done.

I would appreciate it if you as Operator of the Lease, would have this work done. The other working interest owners should stand their share of any expense involved;
please invoice me for Reading & Bates portion of this expense.

If you object to handling it in this manner please let me know and I will arrange to have the work done.

Very truly yours,

I. W. Lovelady

1. The first step in the process of the investigation is the identification of the problem. This is done by the investigator who is responsible for the study. The next step is the formulation of a hypothesis, which is a statement that can be tested. The third step is the design of the study, which involves the selection of the subjects, the measurement of the variables, and the control of the extraneous variables. The fourth step is the collection of data, which is done by the investigator or by a research assistant. The fifth step is the analysis of the data, which is done by the investigator. The sixth step is the interpretation of the results, which is done by the investigator. The seventh step is the reporting of the results, which is done by the investigator. The eighth step is the evaluation of the study, which is done by the investigator. The ninth step is the conclusion, which is done by the investigator. The tenth step is the final report, which is done by the investigator.
