Chevron completed excavation around the subject well on August 8th, 2014. The wellbore was uncovered, and the fluid exit point was confirmed to be between the surface-intermediate casing annulus. Prior to the commencement of capping operations the well began to flow continuously. The subject well was successfully capped with BOPE on September 14th. The wellbore fluids are currently being diverted to tanks on location and ultimately hauled to nearby Chevron facilities. Chevron is making plans to proceed with the re-abandonment of the New Mexico O State NCT-1 #17 and will notify the NMOCD prior to starting additional work.
