

We feel confident that the tests you intend to make on your well will not be concluded by a radioactive log which will be given newspaper publicity for the fact that it shows "saturation".

We have a duty to perform, as set forth by the law and our rules and regulations. We do not intend that the improper plugging or completion of any well shall in any way jeopardize a fresh water bearing formation or any mineral deposits.

We did not intend to embarrass you personally, we only intended to see that our rules and regulations were properly followed.

Very truly yours,
