

Mr. Yarbrough:

I talked with Dick. He said that he told Mr. Jackson that as far as the bond was concerned it was alright. But, that he could not begin drilling operations without your permission. Also, that if you requested a survey they were not to survey until you could witness it and that your decisions were to be complied with. He asked that we advise him if the survey resulted in an unorthodox location.

Clarene