The production from this well had declined to less than ten barrels of oil per day, in attempt to increase its production, pumping equipment was installed and the well put to pumping on Sept. 14, 1949. After having been pumped daily since that time it was tested on October 8th. During ten hours the well pumped 31 barrels of fluid, of which 10% was water, with a gas-oil ratio of 468 cu. ft. of gas per barrel of oil. The casing pressure was 410# throughout the test.
