Dear Mr. Copeland:

In talking with Mrs. Peterson one day this week, she told me you had been out at the farm recently and likely now you know as much as I, pertaining to the moisture and possibility of clearing away the location of the dry hole, but I did talk with our County Commissioneer about putting the surplus road material on the County road, the next day the Foreman of the road construction work in that area called me and suggested that we advise him a day or so before would be working, and that he would have a blade and equipment out there to assist and spread any surplus material.

We had thought was getting about dry enough to work, just preceeding the two to three inches of rain of last week, and another shower one night this week, but will keep watching and advise you when it gets dry again. The Foreman of road construction can be reached thro the County Managers office, in case you should like to contact him, I do not have his name at hand.

Very truly yours,
