Dear Carl:

Mr. Jack Cusack talked to me a few days ago regarding drilling bonds.

It is my understanding that Mr. Lloyd Noble controls: Noble & Company, The Capitan Oil Corporation and has quite an interest in J. P. Cusack, Inc.

Mr. Cusack wondered if they could get all of the wells drilled by these three companies covered by one blanket bond. Under the present set-up they are carrying 5 or 6 $5000 surety bonds on which they have to pay $50 a year on each bond.

Yesterday I talked to Doc Kemnitz of Noble & Company at Hobbs and he seemed to think that these three companies might be incorporated under one name sometime in the near future.

I would suggest that you take this matter up with Mr. Jack Cusack, Midland, Texas, and Mr. Lloyd Noble of Noble Drilling Company, Hobbs, New Mexico.

Very truly yours,

FJV:t

F. J. Vesely.
