

NEW MEXICO OIL CONSERVATION COMMISSION
Santa Fe, New Mexico

REQUEST FOR PERMISSION TO CONNECT WITH PIPE LINE

This request should be SUBMITTED IN TRIPPLICATE. See instructions in the Rules and Regulations of the Commission.

Midland, Texas March 28, 1939
Place Date

OIL CONSERVATION COMMISSION,
Santa Fe, New Mexico.

DUPLICATE

Gentlemen:

Permission is requested to connect Humble Oil & Refining Company N. M. State "K"
Company or Operator Lease

Well No. 3 in NE/4 of SE/4 of Sec. 28, T. 17-S, R. 35-E, N.M.P.M.
Vacuum Field, Lee County, with the pipe line of the

Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company Midland, Texas
Pipe Line Co. Address

Status of land (State, Government or privately owned) State Owned

Location of tank battery 1320' from the East line & 1082.5' from the South line of Section 28

Description of tanks 2 - 500 bbl. wood tanks

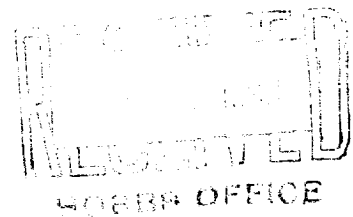

Logs of the above wells were filed with the Oil Conservation Commission Attached, 19    

All other requirements of the Commission have ~~been~~ been complied with. (Cross out incorrect words.)

Additional information:

Necessary firewalls constructed. All brush and trash cleaned out around well.

Tank batteries located more than 150' from any producing well.

Yours truly,

Permission is hereby granted to make pipe line connections requested above.

OIL CONSERVATION COMMISSION,

By R. E. Y A. ANDREAS

Title State Geologist
Member Oil Conservation Commission

Date MAR 29 1939

Humble Oil & Refining Company
Owner or Operator

By J. W. Lawrence

Position Division Superintendent

Address Box 1600, Midland, Texas

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that the study of history is essential for understanding the present and for shaping the future. The author states that history is not just a collection of facts, but a way of thinking about the world.

2. The second part of the paper discusses the role of the individual in history. It is argued that individuals are not just passive recipients of history, but active participants in it. The author states that individuals can shape history through their actions and decisions. This part of the paper is supported by several examples of individuals who have made a significant impact on history.

3. The third part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that the study of history is essential for understanding the present and for shaping the future. The author states that history is not just a collection of facts, but a way of thinking about the world. This part of the paper is supported by several examples of how the study of history has helped to shape the present.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the role of the individual in history. It is argued that individuals are not just passive recipients of history, but active participants in it. The author states that individuals can shape history through their actions and decisions. This part of the paper is supported by several examples of individuals who have made a significant impact on history. The author concludes that the study of history is essential for understanding the present and for shaping the future.

5. The fifth part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that the study of history is essential for understanding the present and for shaping the future. The author states that history is not just a collection of facts, but a way of thinking about the world. This part of the paper is supported by several examples of how the study of history has helped to shape the present.

6. The sixth part of the paper discusses the role of the individual in history. It is argued that individuals are not just passive recipients of history, but active participants in it. The author states that individuals can shape history through their actions and decisions. This part of the paper is supported by several examples of individuals who have made a significant impact on history.

7. The seventh part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that the study of history is essential for understanding the present and for shaping the future. The author states that history is not just a collection of facts, but a way of thinking about the world. This part of the paper is supported by several examples of how the study of history has helped to shape the present.

8. The eighth part of the paper discusses the role of the individual in history. It is argued that individuals are not just passive recipients of history, but active participants in it. The author states that individuals can shape history through their actions and decisions. This part of the paper is supported by several examples of individuals who have made a significant impact on history. The author concludes that the study of history is essential for understanding the present and for shaping the future.