Dear Evelyn:

As I explained by phone, Coquina submitted a C-104 (dated July 5, 1988) which incorrectly changed the condensate transporter from Permian Oil Corporation to Enron Oil Trading & Transportation Company. There should not have been any changes whatsoever concerning the above mentioned well in July of 1988. (Note: there have been no condensate sales during this time).

However, effective November 1, 1990, a change in condensate transporter is scheduled. Enclosed is the C-104 containing the current change of condensate transporter, from Permian to Texaco Trading & Transportation. Please update your records to reflect the above two changes.

If you have any questions concerning the changes, please contact me at (713) 961-1770.

Sincerely,

Coquina Oil Corporation
