My dear Mr. [Name]:

I have just received your letter of the 8th inst. and am glad to hear that you are well. I am also well and hope this letter finds you the same.

I have been thinking much lately of the future of our country and the world. It seems to me that we are at a critical juncture in our history. The war has shown us the power of the machine and the importance of the individual. It has also shown us the need for a new order of things. I believe that the future of our country lies in the hands of the people. We must have a government that is responsive to the needs of the people and that is based on the principles of justice and equality.

Very truly yours,

I am sure that you will agree with me that the future of our country is in the hands of the people. We must have a government that is responsive to the needs of the people and that is based on the principles of justice and equality. I believe that the future of our country lies in the hands of the people. We must have a government that is responsive to the needs of the people and that is based on the principles of justice and equality.

Very truly yours,

Yours truly,
