INSTRUCTIONS

This form shall be executed in duplicate (NYCRR § 175.119) with the District Office of the Oil Conservation Commission (see § 175.119) from which oil or gas is produced. A separate certificate shall be filed for each transporter authorized to transport from the transporter. After said certificate form is approved by the Oil Conservation Commission, one copy shall be retained by the transporter, one copy returned to the producer, and two copies retained by the Oil Conservation Commission.

A new certificate shall be filed by the transporter in the event of a change in ownership and not change in the transporter, or in the event of a change in the transporter in the event of a change in the allowable production or transportation period; the transporter shall be notified by a new certificate filed by the Oil Conservation Commission District Office. The transporter authorization shall be on file with the Commission. The transporter shall estimate amount of oil or gas to be moved by the transporter to permit moving oil or gas from the oil and gas lease of such temporary transporter. A notice of such notice shall also be furnished such temporary transporter. Such temporary transporter shall not transport more oil or gas than the estimated amount shown in said notice.

This certificate when properly executed and approved by the Oil Conservation Commission shall constitute a permit for pipe line transportation authorization to transport oil and gas from the transporter named therein and shall remain in full force and effect until:

- a. Ownership or ownership changes;
- b. The transporter is changed; or
- c. The certificate is cancelled by the Commission.

If any of the foregoing regulations of the Oil Conservation Commission have not been complied with, the transporter shall be liable for the full value of the production of oil and gas.

In all cases the transporter shall be liable for any change in operating ownership of a certificate and shall be liable for the full value of the production of oil and gas under the certificate. The transporter shall be liable for the full value of the production of oil and gas under the certificate.

A separate certificate shall be filed by the transporter for each transporter designated by the Oil Conservation Commission.
