1. The first of the three main points of the report is that the Soviet Union is a great power and that it has the right to be treated as such. This is a statement of principle which is not open to dispute. The second point is that the Soviet Union is a member of the United Nations and that it has the right to be treated as such. This is also a statement of principle which is not open to dispute. The third point is that the Soviet Union is a member of the Warsaw Pact and that it has the right to be treated as such. This is also a statement of principle which is not open to dispute.
