THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

CHAPTER I. THE DISCOVERY OF AMERICA

The discovery of America by Christopher Columbus in 1492 is one of the most important events in the history of the world. It opened up a new world of opportunity and led to the development of a new civilization. The discovery was made on a voyage sponsored by the Spanish monarchs, Isabella and Ferdinand. Columbus sailed across the Atlantic Ocean and landed on the island of San Salvador in the Bahamas. He then sailed on to the mainland of Central America, where he founded the city of Santo Domingo. His discovery led to the Spanish conquest of the Americas and the establishment of a vast empire.

The discovery of America had a profound impact on the world. It led to the development of a new civilization and the establishment of a vast empire. The Spanish conquest of the Americas led to the discovery of gold and silver, which were then transported to Europe. This led to the development of a new world economy and the rise of Spain as a world power. The discovery of America also led to the development of a new culture and the establishment of a new society.
