THE JOURNAL OF THE
ROYAL ANTHROPOLOGICAL INSTITUTE

The Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute is a quarterly publication of the Royal Anthropological Institute of Great Britain and Ireland. It is devoted to the publication of original research papers and reviews in all branches of anthropology, including physical anthropology, social anthropology, linguistics, and archaeology. The Journal is published by the Royal Society of Medicine Press on behalf of the Institute.

The Journal is edited by Professor Colin Renfrew, who is also the President of the Royal Anthropological Institute. The Journal is published in four parts per year, in January, April, July, and October. The Journal is available in both print and electronic formats. The print edition is published by the Royal Society of Medicine Press, and the electronic edition is available online through the Royal Anthropological Institute's website. The Journal is indexed and abstracted in a number of major databases, including the Social Sciences Citation Index, the Social Sciences Index, and the Anthropological Index.

The Journal is a member of the International Association of Anthropological Journals (IAAJ). The IAAJ is a non-profit organization that promotes the exchange of information and the development of anthropology as a discipline. The Journal is also a member of the Royal Society of Medicine Press, which is a not-for-profit organization that publishes a number of scientific journals. The Journal is published in both English and French. The English edition is published by the Royal Society of Medicine Press, and the French edition is published by the Société Française d'Anthropologie.
