This well failed a packer leakage test. On May 30, 1984 a standing valve was dropped and the tubing pressured up to 1000 psi. The tubing bled down to 700 psi in 5 minutes. The tubing and packer was then pulled from the well. A new packer was run and the tubing hydrotested back in the hole. The packer was set at 6238'.

The first week of June another packer leakage test will be conducted on this well.
