

NEW MEXICO OIL CONSERVATION COMMISSION
BOX 2045
HOBBS, NEW MEXICO

DATE February 19, 1954

TO: Western Oil Fields, Inc.

1636 Stout St., Denver, Colorado

GENTLEMEN:

Form C-104 for your Drinkard 4-H 25-22-37 Blinebry
LEASE WELL S.T.R. POOL

has been approved, however, since this well is:

- ( ) An unorthodox location,
- ( ) Located on an unorthodox proration unit,
- ( ) Outside the boundaries of a designated pool,

DUAL

it will be necessary for you to;

- ( ) Comply with the provisions of Rule 4 of Commission Order _____
- ( ) Comply with the provisions of Rule 7 of Commission Order _____
- ( ) File Form C-123

Pending further Commission action this unit will be assigned an 80 acre allowable.

Stanley J. Stanley
A. L. Porter, Jr.
Proration Manager

ALP/pb

cc/ Transporter El Paso Natural Gas Co.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific requirements for record-keeping. It states that all transactions must be recorded in a timely and accurate manner, and that the records must be maintained for a minimum of five years.

3. The third part of the document discusses the role of the auditor in verifying the accuracy of the records. It states that the auditor must perform a thorough review of the records and must report any discrepancies to the appropriate authorities.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the consequences of failing to maintain accurate records. It states that individuals who fail to comply with the requirements may be subject to fines and penalties.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of transparency and accountability in the financial system. It states that transparency is essential for the public's confidence in the system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the role of the government in ensuring the integrity of the financial system. It states that the government must implement and enforce the requirements for record-keeping and must provide the necessary resources to support the auditor.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of ongoing monitoring and evaluation of the financial system. It states that the government must regularly review the system to identify any weaknesses and must take steps to address them.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of public participation in the financial system. It states that the public must be encouraged to report any suspicious activity and to provide input on the system's operation.

9. The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of international cooperation in the financial system. It states that the government must work with other countries to ensure the integrity of the global financial system.

10. The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of education and training in the financial system. It states that individuals must be educated on the requirements for record-keeping and on the consequences of failing to comply.

11. The eleventh part of the document discusses the importance of the legal framework for the financial system. It states that the government must ensure that the legal system is robust and that it can effectively enforce the requirements for record-keeping.

12. The twelfth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's resilience. It states that the system must be able to withstand shocks and stresses and must be able to recover quickly from any disruptions.

13. The thirteenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's stability. It states that the system must be able to maintain its value and must not be subject to excessive volatility.

14. The fourteenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's efficiency. It states that the system must be able to process transactions quickly and accurately and must be able to minimize costs.

15. The fifteenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's innovation. It states that the system must be able to adapt to new technologies and must be able to provide new services to the public.

16. The sixteenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's sustainability. It states that the system must be able to maintain its value over the long term and must be able to provide for the needs of future generations.

17. The seventeenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's transparency. It states that the system must be able to provide clear and accurate information to the public and must be able to detect and prevent fraud.

18. The eighteenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's accountability. It states that the system must be able to hold individuals and institutions accountable for their actions and must be able to provide a fair and equitable process for resolving disputes.

19. The nineteenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's integrity. It states that the system must be able to maintain its value and must not be subject to excessive volatility.

20. The twentieth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system's resilience. It states that the system must be able to withstand shocks and stresses and must be able to recover quickly from any disruptions.