REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE PHYSICAL SCIENCES

The Committee on the Physical Sciences was organized in 1961 to study the physical sciences in the Division of the Physical Sciences. The Committee has since that time held several meetings and has received many suggestions from the faculty and the students. The Committee has also conducted a series of studies of the physical sciences in the Division of the Physical Sciences. The results of these studies are reported in this report.

The Committee has found that the physical sciences in the Division of the Physical Sciences are in a state of rapid change. The physical sciences are becoming more and more interdisciplinary, and the boundaries between the different physical sciences are becoming increasingly blurred. This has led to a number of new fields of research, and has also led to a number of new methods of research. The Committee has found that the physical sciences in the Division of the Physical Sciences are in a state of rapid change, and that the physical sciences are becoming more and more interdisciplinary.
