1. The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country and the position of the various groups. It is a very general and superficial treatment of the subject, but it gives a good impression of the state of affairs. The second part of the report deals with the specific details of the situation. It is a more detailed and more accurate treatment of the subject, but it is also more difficult to read. The third part of the report deals with the conclusions and recommendations. It is a very short and simple treatment of the subject, but it is also very clear and concise.
